

Gov. JOHNSON.— His Excellency Isaac Johnson, Governor of the State, leaves the city to-day, on a visit to his plantation, where his family have been sojourning for some time. The Governor has been engaged in the discharge of the arduous duties of his high station for many months, without, we believe, being absent from the city a day. It is time he should enjoy some recreation, and we hope that he will return to us after the lapse of a month or two with renovated health, to enter renewedly upon the despatch of the multifarious duties of his office.
