

SALARIES OF THE DIFFERENT STATE GOVERNORS.—A comparative exhibition of the salaries received by the governors of the different states and territories in the Union, presents a curious disproportion. We will begin with the highest salaried governor, and end with the lowest. Andre B. Roman, of New Orleans, governor of Louisiana to January 4, 1843, receives a salary of $7,500. Maryland pays the next highest salary. William Grason, of Annapolis, whose term will expire on the 1st Monday in January, 1842, receives $4,200. William H. Seward, governor of New York until January 1, 1841, has a salary of $4,000. David R. Porter, of Pennsylvania, $4,000—term expires on the 3d Tuesday in January, 1842. Charles J. McDonald, of Georgia, $4,000—term expires in November, 1841. Marcus Morton, of Massachusetts, $3,666 67—term expires 1st Wednesday in January, 1841. B. K. Hennegan, lieutenant and acting governor of South Carolina, $3,500—term of service expires in December, 1840. Arthur P. Bagby, of Alabama, $3,500—term of service expires on the 1st Monday in December, 1841. Thomas W. Gilmer, of Virginia, $3,333 33—term of service expires 31st March, 1843. Alexander G. McNutt, of Mississippi, $3,000—term of service expires January, 1842. Robert P. Letcher, of Kentucky, $2,500—term expires in September, 1841. Robert R. Reid, governor of Florida territory, $2,500—term ends in December, 1842. Henry Dodge, of Wisconsin, $2,500—term ends July 3, 1842. Robert Lucas, of Iowa, $2,500—term expires in July, 1841. William Pennington, of New Jersey, $2,000—term expired October, 1840. John M. Morehead, of North Carolina, $2,000—term expires January 1, 1843. James S. Conway, of Arkansas, $2,000—term expires in November, 1840. James K. Polk, of Tennessee, $2,000—term expires in October, 1841. William Woodbridge, of Michigan, $2,000—term expires January 1, 1842. T. Reynolds, of Missouri, $2,000—term ends November, 1844. John Fairfield, Maine, $1,500—term ends on the first Wednesday in January, 1841. Wilson Shannon, of Ohio, $1,500—term expires on the 1st Monday in December, 1840. Samuel Bigger, of Indiana, $1,500—term ends in December, 1843. Thomas Carlin, of Illinois, $1,500, ($500 of this is for rent and travelling expenses) term expires on the 1st Monday in December, 1842. Cornelius P. Comegys, of Delaware, $1,333 33—term expires on the 3d Tuesday in 1841. John Page, of New Hampshire, $1,200—term expires on the 1st Wednesday in June, 1841. The governor of Connecticut receives $1,100. The governor of Vermont has a salary of $750. Samuel W. King, of Rhode Island receives but $400—his term of service will expire on the 1st Wednesday in May, 1841.

By the above statement it will be seen that the governor of Louisiana receives the highest salary, $7,500; and that the governor of Rhode Island receives the lowest, $400. Our own state gives her governor $200 more than any other state except Louisiana.
