

Leaves Homestead For New Field

O. H. Simpson.

O. H. SIMPSON RESIGNS OFFICE IN HOMESTEAD

Retires as Secretary of Excelsior Association, Effective Jan. 1.

O. H. Simpson, known perhaps all over the state as secretary of the Louisiana Senate, is also secretary of the Excelsior Homestead Association, one of the popular institutions of its kind in the city. At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the homestead Mr. Simpson tendered his resignation as secretary effective January 1.

Mr. Simpson, who is president of the Konold Company, Inc., wholesale dealers in candy and also manufacturers of several proprietary drugs, was prompted in resigning the secretaryship of the homestead on account of the large increase in the candy business, to which he will, in the future, devote his entire time.

His long connection with the legislature has made him many friends in Louisiana and his success in his new venture is no doubt assured.