Theological Society Head Pleads for Scientific View.

Lecturing Monday at the St. Charles hotel on "Gods in the Mak- type closely related to the monkey."

ing. L. W. Rogers, national president of the American Theological Society, took a fling at those who confuse Darwinism with evolution, declaring that "the difference between evolution and Darwinism is precisely the difference between a set of facts and a theory about those facts."

Four Candidates Seek to Be Lieutenant Governor

ORAMEL H. SIMPSON was born in Washington, St. Landry parish, March 20, 1870, graduated from Centenary college, Jackson, Louisiana, in 1890, and received his diploma from the law school of Tulane university, in 1892.

ORAMEL H. SIMPSON Of Orleans

Mr. Simpson came to New Orleans thirty-one years ago and practiced law in New Orleans since then. He was made notary public in 1908, and has also been active in homestead circles.

Mr. Simpson early began to take a part in local politics. He was elected assistant secretary of the state Senate in 1900, and for eight years served in that capacity. He was then elected secretary of the Senate, which place he has filled until now.

SPEEDIER TRIALS WILL AID JUSTICE

Canadian Legal Light Addresses Loyola Students.

"Speed up trials of criminals, eliminate some of the technicalities of law and there will be a happier aspect for the courts of the United States."

This was the advice of N. P. Rowell, former attorney general of Canada and an authority on constitutional and international law, in an address to the law students of Loyola university Monday night in the auditorium.

There are few delays in criminal trials in Canada and the law breaker has more respect for the courts. It is unusual, said the speaker, for a murder case to be in the courts longer than three months.

The speaker urged higher salaries for judges in order that the best type of lawyers would aspire for judicial honors. Judges in this country receive higher salaries than those in America. He said the brilliant lawyer here can make more money in the practice of law and there is no inducement for him to aspire for the bench.

Attorney Rowell was introduced by Very Rev. Edward A. Cummings, S. J., president of Loyola university, who eloquently explained the close relationship between the United States and Canada and of criminal law. Judge Case, dean of the law school, also spoke.

TWO FACE EVADED JAIL SENTENCES

District Attorney Learns Convicted Men Escaped Serving Term.

Two men yesterday were ordered to serve time in the parish prison for having evaded jail sentences. This came about as the result of a little digging into court records by District Attorney Gaspard Birbiglia, owner of a so-called soft drink saloon at 2401 South Canpar street, who escaped serving a thirty-day jail sentence imposed by Judge Dowling last May for selling liquor.

When Birbiglia was convicted, Judge Dowling sentenced him to pay $100 and serve thirty days in jail and in default of the payment to serve thirty days additional. He appealed to the supreme court and a few days later withdrew his appeal and paid the fine. An examination of the sentence commitment papers showed that for some reason the thirty-day jail sentence and bond were left out. It read that Birbiglia was either to pay the $100 fine or serve the thirty days in jail.

Last week Mr. Marr discovered the error and drew up a new commitment paper. Yesterday it was presented to Judge Dowling in the form of a motion, and it was signed by the judge. Late yesterday afternoon Birbiglia had not been taken into custody but the warrant was in the hands of Archie Benayon, warden of the parish prison.

Birbiglia who has been out of the city is expected to return today and will be taken into custody immediately, it was stated. Marcella, a saloonman of 809 Magnolia street, was ordered yesterday by Judge Dowling to serve a sixty-day jail sentence that had been suspended by the same court more than a year ago. This was done on the motion of Mr. Marr, who found that the accused had broken the same law and was found guilty.

In October, 1922, Marcella was found guilty of violating the liquor law and sentenced by Judge Dowling to pay a fine of $50 and serve thirty days in jail. When Mr. Marr was looking up the record in the Birbiglia case he found the case against Marcella and filed a motion asking that the defendant be compelled to serve the sentence that had been suspended. Yesterday morning Judge Dowling revoked the suspension of Marcella's sentence through his attorney, will take the case to the supreme court, they stated.

CHECK FIRE QUICKLY. A defective electric wire is said by police to have started a fire on the second floor of the four-story office building, 215 Magazine street, owned by the Stauffer Land Company and occupied by the Standard Printing Company, yesterday morning, causing a property damage of approximately $200. The building was damaged slightly. The blaze was discovered early and was extinguished before it reached the upper floors where paper and inks were stored. Sparks from a grate fire on the second floor of the rooming house conducted by Mrs. Telace Hill, at 217 Carondelet street, yesterday morning, ignited bed clothes. Police estimated the damage to the building and contents at $250. The building is owned by Dr. T. W. Beaux, 1505 General Pershing street.

KIWANIANS HEAR CITY SALE PLANS

Every Citizen to Know Facts, Is Aim of Committee.

Installation of officers and appointment of committees for the year was the principal business before the Kiwanis Club when after a lapse of two weeks the weekly luncheon was resumed at Kolb's restaurant yesterday.

R. N. Sims, vice-president of the Kiwanis Bank and Trust Company, the newly elected president, was escorted to the chair by S. G. Steiner and E. J. Marks, former presidents of the club, where R. H. Colcock, Jr., retiring president, welcomed him with assurances of co-operation in his plans for 1924.

Mr. Sims said he hoped for a complete success of Kiwanians in "the best city in the best state in the greatest country on earth."

F. W. Ellsworth, vice-president of the Kiwanis Bank and Trust Company, was the speaker of the day and discussed plans of the Association of Commerce to sell the city to Orleanians. He declared that citizens of the city were not unlike those of other cities, and that they did not know facts about their city as they should. He explained that the committee of which he is a member will endeavor to acquaint every person with essential facts and information.

Aged Woman May Die of Injury Laid to Carelessness

Carelessness on the part of a car rider may cause the life of an aged woman.

Falling to "watch his step," the car rider stepped on the hem of the dress of Mrs. Dora Selbert, 82 years old, as she alighted from a Tchoupitoulas street car at Tchoupitoulas street and Louisiana avenue. She was thrown headlong to the pavement. Passersby picked her up. She was taken to the Charity hospital where an examination disclosed that her left hip is fractured. Because of her age, Mrs. Selbert is in a serious condition and the injury and shock may prove fatal. Her residence is at 2316 Second street.

A Test for Rest—

AFTER the sleepless night, and you wonder about the cause, has it ever occurred to you that it may be caffeine, the drug in coffee, that keeps you awake?

Suppose you try Postum as your mealtime beverage, for at least ten days—

Put it to the test!

At your first sip of Postum, you will understand why, by many, it is preferred equally for its delicious flavor and for its wholesomeness.

Postum is absolutely free from the coffee drug, caffeine, or anything that can cause restless nights or uncomfortable days.

Sold by grocers everywhere!

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.
