DAVIS CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT

Discuss Safety Program; Housing Plan Urged

(The Times-Picayune Washington Bureau)

Washington, May 9.—Governor Jimmie Davis of Louisiana conferred with President Truman at the White House Thursday afternoon.

Afterwards the governor said: "We had a very friendly visit. The president was looking well, I was glad to see, after all these responsibilities. He has even gained a little weight."

The governor, who is in town for the president's safety council, said the two discussed the future of the safety program. They shared a keen interest in safety matters. Governor Davis, as public safety commissioner of Louisiana for four years, drew on his experience in the field to back up the president's plans for promoting highway safety.

Governor Davis was accompanied to the White House by State Senator H. H. Richardson of Bogalusa.

Governor Davis conferred today with housing officials and other government executives.

His housing plan, which would do much to aid in the housing shortage in Louisiana, especially in the rural areas, would provide:

That building materials in military establishments such as the army camps constructed all over Louisiana and Texas, be salvaged and sold to veterans. The veterans then could build their own homes or hire local contractors or builders to construct them.

The governor has already discussed the plan with housing officials in Dallas and Fort Worth, who think it is a good idea.

For example, Camp Claiborne in Louisiana was built to accommodate 50,000 soldiers. It is estimated that if the salvage job in this camp alone was 100 per cent, 5000 homes for veterans could be constructed from the materials, which include lumber, and plumbing and electric light fixtures. If the salvage job was only 50 per cent, this would still provide 2500 needed houses for veterans in the area.

TIDE WAVE LEVEE BY BOARD BARRED

Pontchartrain Unit Held Limited in Ruling

(The Associated Press)

Baton Rouge, La. May 9.—The Pontchartrain levee board is without authority to build levees against tidal wave-wash on Lake Pontchartrain, the attorney general's office held in an opinion today.

The opinion, addressed to L. G. Peytavin, president of the Pontchartrain Levee District's board of commissioners, was prepared by R. H. Lee, special assistant attorney general.

"We understand," Lee wrote, "that the federal government has under consideration a project involving the construction of a concrete sea wall or embankment along the shore of Lake Pontchartrain in the parishes of Jefferson and St. Charles, to protect the property bordering the lake from future damage by wave-wash, the principal damage in this respect being alleged to have been caused by the increase in the tide in the lake occasioned by the diversion of floodwaters of the Mississippi river through Bonnet Carre spillway.

"This project of the United States engineers contemplates that 'some local interest' will act as sponsor, will contribute $300,000 in cash toward its construction, will acquire all necessary rights of way and will thereafter maintain the sea wall or embankment to be constructed."

Since the greatest damage to the lakefront is from operation of the spillway, over which the levee board has no control, the opinion stated, and since no authority exists for such action under the act creating the board 55 years ago, "it is, therefore, the opinion of this department that the board of commissioners of the Pontchartrain Levee District has no authority to use its funds for the protection from wave-wash of property lying along the shores of Lake Pontchartrain."

BLIND UNIT CHECKS ON RECORDING NEEDS

The American Foundation for the Blind is making a nationwide survey to learn to what extent recordings of books in French would be used, John Hall Jacobs, librarian of the New Orleans public library, said Thursday. He is interested in learning the number of persons in Louisiana and Mississippi who would like to borrow such books.

The New Orleans library now supplies embossed books and talking records in English to the blind in Louisiana and Mississippi.

DRIVERS LICENSE MEASURE BACKED

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

Baton Rouge, La., May 9.—Support for the proposed drivers' license law slated for action at the session of the Legislature which starts Monday gained added support today.

In a letter to Hunter Huckaby, director of public safety and sponsor of the bill, the Louisiana Highway Development and Safety Fondation commended him for his farsightedness in preparation of the proposed law and urged full support of the measure.

The letter, signed by Howard D. Strother, executive director of the foundation, cited revocation features of the bill as "deserving of special praise."

"The hit-and-run and drunken driver should not be tolerated on the state roadways," Strother wrote. "Neither does a system which protects the criminal element have any place in Louisiana government.

"In Washington yesterday, speaking before a national highway safety conference, President Truman urged that a system of minimum license requirements be set up for the whole nation. Provisions of the bill suggested by Huckaby are based on the license laws now in effect in 45 of the 48 states."

'Dickie,' 3, Walks on His New Legs

(The Associated Press)

Lynn, Mass., May 9. — Three-year-old "Dickie" Landry stood up to the world today.

Wednesday he walked down the steps of the Lynn hospital where he had been for two months since losing both legs in a train accident.

All the people where "Dickie" lives were happy to see him come home on the new artificial legs, bought from the $25,000 fund which Lynn citizens donated for the little boy.

Neighbors came out to watch "Dickie" and his friends play ring-around-the-rosie.
