

MRS. WICKLIFFE IS WED

Widow of Louisiana Congressman
Bride of Col. W. S. Holmes.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 27.—Mrs. Lydia Cooke Wickliffe, widow of the late Representative, was married here recently to Colonel William Stone Holmes, of Tallulah, a member of the Conservation Commission. The wedding was performed at St. James' Episcopal Church.

Governor Hall acted as best man, while C. W. Hancock, of New Orleans, brother-in-law of Mrs. Wickliffe, gave the bride in marriage. Plans for a trip on the Conservation Commission's yacht Daisy were changed at the last minute, but plans were kept secret.

Among out-of-town guests were: Mrs. E. H. Hardy, Monroe; Miss Amy Holmes, Tallulah, sister of the groom; Senator Amacker, Lake Providence; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Stone, Tallulah; Mr. and Mrs. Grundy Cooper, Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. John Irwin, Bayou Sara; Mr. and Mrs. Elrie Robinson, St. Francisville; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Alexander, Miss Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Daynes, of New Orleans.
